On February 24th, 2012, ten of RIT's most ambitious clubs on campus arrived in Ingle Auditorium to compete for a grand prize of $500 in club funds, along with bragging rights for winning the 1st Annual Clubs Got Talent competition! 2nd place would receive $300, & 3rd place would be awarded $100.

Only a few weeks of preparation were possible for many of the performers, and as students, the week before finals makes it even busier. Nevertheless, everyone stepped up their game from an awesome rehearsal giving the crowd a wide variety of stellar performances!

After a quick intro from our Blues Brothers hosts for the evening (Clubs GA Rick Pavia and SA Chris Tarantino) the Capoeira Mandinga club set the beat for the evening with an acrobatic martial arts shadow dance, set within a custom animated story. Gospel Ensemble followed up with a moving vocal performance while a painting was created on stage. Mental Graffiti then expressed their own poetry with emphatic voices, while Juggling Club mesmerized the crowd with exceptional coordination. Before intermission, Brick Beats left everyone anxious for more with a killer hip hop dance.

When the curtain came up at intermission the crowd was pumped up by a sub-group within the RIT Pep Band, (known as 6 Below). Next up, one of our newest clubs on campus, the RIT Pipe Band, brought a taste of Ireland to RIT with a trio of bagpipers decked out in traditional garb, complete with kilts. If the pipes weren't going to be stuck in your head all night, you could then count on the Sailing Club and their nautical sea shanty "Whisky, Johnny" to stay with you though the ride home. Dumbledore's Army then brought the crowd some intense shadowcasting and a story to the show before the RIThym Crew made everyone dizzy in a closing performance filled with breakdancing straight out of the 80s!

Capoeira Mandinga!

What is Capoeira?

Capoeira is an Afro-Brazilian martial art that has elements of dance and game, acrobatic as well as deceptive. The art has its own culture and history which is passed on through its music.

History

Although how it came to be is still very much contested, Capoeira is known to have been practiced by slaves who were brought to Brazil to work on the plantations. They disguised the martial art as a dance so that they could practice self-defense in front of the slave owners. After slavery was abolished, Capoeira was outlawed and became a form of gang fighting. Then, in 1937, Mestre Bimba formally presented Capoeira to the Brazilian government and had the art legalized. Now, Capoeira is one of Brazil's national sports.

About Capoeira @RIT

The Capoeira Mandinga club at RIT was founded in November 2007 by Gian Lomaglio and Sean Farnier. Although originally very small (there were only 3 members in the beginning), the club has grown to have over 20 regular members. This year, we were approved to have a Capoeira Wellness Class and have had two successful quarters thus far. The club meets on Mondays 7-9pm in 55-1310, and Fridays 7-9pm in the SLC Lower Dance Studio. The Capoeira Wellness Class is offered every quarter on Tuesdays from 7-8:20pm in the SLC Upper Dance Studio.

Clubs Got Talent

For the Clubs Got Talent show, our club decided to present a trailer version of our performance for the innovation-themed event, Imagine RIT. It is called "Shadow Showdown" and is meant to utilize the many different talents and skills of our members including computer animation, four different martial arts, choreography, and musical arrangement. The story begins with an evil shadow entity that wants to destroy the world, but it starts out very weak and has to use deception in order to steal the powers of others. There is a lot of action, some humor, and a little suspense for everyone to enjoy!

CLUB SPORTS

FEATURING:

Freestyle Ski & Snowboard Team

The club focuses on two aspects of snowboarding; recreational and competitive. This consists of going to the club selected mountain, such as Bristol or Hunt Hollow, a few times a week. The end of the trip usually includes a cookout at the mountain where everyone relaxes and hangs out. There are numerous ways for the recreational snowboard team to interact with everyone, and as always, current members go out of their way to ensure that new members feel welcomed and get to know everyone.

The competitive team not only goes on the trips to the mountains for recreation, but also attends several competitions during the season. These competitions include boardercross, slopestyle, and half-pipe. These events are held at different mountains, and finally culminate in Nationals. The past few years have seen more and more members of our team attending nationals, which has been fun for everyone involved! All ranges of skill compete, and for many this is usually the very first competitions ever.

13/20 of our members qualified for nationals this year!

2 Members will be competing April 1st - 5th at Copper Mountain, CO! Wish them luck!!!

The Snowboard team and club also do several events throughout the school year. These include a pre-Christmas trip to Tremblant, Canada, an early spring Rail-jam, big spring break trips, and at times hosts snowboard movie viewings. Everyone is always encouraged to interact with each other, and long lasting friendships are built. Many of the team's alumni come back and visit frequently, riding and even sometimes competing alongside the rest of the team. All in all, the Snowboard team is a great experience that isn't soon forgotten.

Each member, upon joining, gets a membership to USASA (United States of America Snowboard Association) which allows them to compete in any USASA competition. We compete in the Western New York region. With your membership, you also get discounts at certain stores (last year was Pac Sun and this year is Sports Authority).

While the competition was tight and involved votes from not only the judges but a randomly selected audience member, one of the groups would have to be declared our first winner. Speaking of the judges, a shout out is appropriate to our dedicated panel you'll be introduced to in the photo gallery to follow! The results were very close, but in the end a Price is Right sized check for $500 in clubs funds was awarded to the RIT Pep Band! 2nd place went to the RIT Pipe Band and 3rd place was awarded to the RITHym Crew!

RIT clubs made it obvious that there's an overflow of talents on campus, so if you're part of a club and want to compete next year, it's never too early to get ready!

Last but definitely not least, a big Thank You to Sarah Griffith, your club coordinator and show producer who planned and executed the event down to the minute, as well as a thank you to the behind the scenes talents you almost never see (by design) in a hard-working and versatile Tech Crew. Good luck next year to all!
